

Adaptive Learning

The content of the course is self-paced and adaptive to the learner. Daily exercises are generated for each individual learner through MemoTrainer™. The same question will be asked on different days, but questions that a learner answers incorrectly return sooner than questions the learner answered correctly.

Retention training through repeated learning

MemoTrainer™ integrates the theory of Ebbinghaus 'retention through repetition' in a unique way. It trains knowledge in a personalised way, so learners remember more and pass their courses quicker.

Download the App

With the free app learners can do their memo training wherever, whenever.

<https://raisetraining.com.au/DownloadApp-iPhone>

Make it easy

Practice wherever you want

With the free app learners can do their memo training wherever, whenever.

Easily configure the questions to add. Make it part of a learning journey or use it standalone. It's all up to you.

Although the types of questions asked throughout the course and within MemoTrainer™ are multiple choice, the Final Assessment Activity uses short answer (essay type) questions like those within the National Assessment Instrument (NAI). These must be answered by an approved and appropriately qualified assessor. This type of questioning helps prepare the student to what is expected within the NAI.